

THE UNIVERSITY OF
WESTERN AUSTRALIA

Have you accessed services for a substance use problem in the South West?

Have you had a substance problem and not accessed services or help?

Have you been impacted by COVID-19 in accessing services for your substance use problem?

Would you like to share your experience of accessing services in the South West?

Researchers at The Rural Clinical School of WA invite you to participate in a project looking at the experience of people who are attempting to access, or have already accessed, services and professional help to manage a substance use problem. Participation includes a telephone interview with a researcher at a time convenient to you for approximately 45 minutes.

It is anticipated that service providers and organisations that fund services will consider the study's findings when developing and running services for people with substance problems in the South West.

To find out more about the study or to book an interview, ring Annie on 0439 095 023 or Cheryl on 0491 647 370.

Approval to conduct this research has been provided by the University of Western Australia, in accordance with its ethics review and approval procedures. Any person considering participation in this research project, or agreeing to participate, may raise any questions or issues with the researchers at any time.

In addition, any person not satisfied with the response of researchers may raise ethics issues or concerns, and may make any complaints about this research project by contacting the Human Ethics Office at the University of Western Australia on (08) 6488 3703 or by emailing to humanethics@uwa.edu.au